Louisville Tours Reservation Form

1 Riverside Brunch & Bridles — Sunday, 9/7/08 — 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. — $58/person

Your tour begins with a drive along historic West Main Street, where cast-iron, stone and terra cotta facades add visual excitement to the collection of 19th-century warehouses, second only to New York City's SoHo district. Captain's Quarters is located in a picturesque setting overlooking the Ohio River at the mouth of Herrods Creek. First established in the early 1800s as Harrods Tavern, Captain's Quarters has grown from a small stone-walled tavern to a 550-seat dining and entertainment venue. Captain's Quarters is a beautiful place to spend a Sunday morning, with made-to-order waffles and omelets, shrimp cocktail, carved roast beef and a beautiful river atmosphere. The Kentucky Derby Museum features exciting exhibits dedicated to the "greatest two minutes in sports." Three floors of hands-on displays, artifacts, memorabilia and fine art, highlighted by an award-winning audio-visual presentation of "The Greatest Race," take viewers through the excitement of the first Saturday in May. Weather permitting, a walking tour of legendary Churchill Downs will include the historic grandstand and paddock areas. Note: The hours of this tour conflict with the times of the NAPS and Auxiliary First-Time Delegates' Orientations.

2 Fort Knox — Wednesday, 9/10/08 — 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. — $49/person

Enjoy a Southern lunch buffet at Doe Run Inn, then walk through the grounds and enjoy the sounds of nature—the splashing mini-waterfall, the bubbling creek and the whisper of the trees. Next is a history-lover's delight! Fort Knox—the Home of Armor—has served as a U.S. Army military reservation since 1918 and a training center since 1940. The Patton Museum highlights the history of the U.S. Army cavalry and armored forces. Museum exhibits and displays depict the early history of Fort Knox and the development of cavalry and armored weapons, plus equipment and uniforms from the Revolutionary War to the present. A special section at the museum is the Patton Gallery, featuring memorabilia of the late General George S. Patton Jr., colorful and controversial World War II general. Exhibits include numerous personal and military items used by Patton throughout his life, from boyhood to his final days in post-war Europe, including the famous "ivory-handled" Patton pistols. Before heading toward Bardstown, you'll enjoy a brief driving tour of the post, including a drive by the Gold Vault.

3 Historic Bardstown — Wednesday, 9/10/08 — 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. — $62/person

Visitours' excursion to Historic Bardstown will take you over the rolling hills of the Bluegrass State into the heart of Kentucky's early settlements. Lunch at historical Old Talbott Tavern, known as the earliest western stagecoach stop in America as westward expansion brought explorers from the east into Kentucky. Next, visit Kentucky's best-known plantation, My Old Kentucky Home at Federal Hill. Immortalized in song by Stephen Foster, My Old Kentucky Home portrays an image of the South's gentle and leisurely home life before the Civil War. As you enter the grounds of Star Hill Farms, home of Maker's Mark bourbon, you'll feel as though you've stepped back in time. Every guest who visits Maker's Mark experiences an up-close-and-personal look at the process of creating excellent bourbon. Guests also love the visitors' center, which has a wonderful gift gallery of unique items to purchase as memories of a relaxing day at Maker's Mark. For a very special keepsake, each guest will receive a 375 ml. bottle of Maker's Mark he or she can personally dip into the distinguished Maker's "red wax."

4 Horses, Horses, Horses — Wednesday, 9/10/08 — 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. — $71/person

On the way to the Kentucky Horse Park, visitors will drive by several famous thoroughbred horse farms and see the rolling hills Kentucky is so well known for. The Kentucky Horse Park is a unique tribute to the state's most vital industry and home to more than 40 breeds of horses. You'll experience the sights and sounds of a working horse farm; the parade of breeds; and the American Saddlebred Museum, home to the largest collection of saddlebred artifacts in the world, including trophies, photographs, tack, artwork and a library of more than 2,400 volumes used for bloodline and genealogical research. There's also the Hall of Champions, a permanent home to winning thoroughbreds; and the International Museum of the Horse, where you can trace the 50-million-year history of the horse. See racing trophies, priceless artifacts, carriages and more at this affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution. While at the Horse Park, you'll also enjoy a box lunch in the clubhouse.

5 Mammoth Cave National Park — Wednesday, 9/10/08 — 9 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. — $68/person

On arriving at Mammoth Cave National Park, you'll begin with a two-hour tour of the cave known as the Historic Tour. Entering the cave through the historic entrance, you'll feel the excitement that intrigued the earliest explorers and visitors. Experience the history and role that Mammoth Cave played during the War of 1812. Large passages invite you to imagine what it would have been like for prehistoric discoverers who walked these passages more than 2,000 years ago. Descend into the lower levels of the cave and follow in the footsteps of the first explorers who crossed the Bottomless Pit, then squeeze through Fat Man's Misery. Climb 138 steps up Mammoth Dome and exit through the historic entrance. There are roughly 440 stairs in all to climb and a semi-steep hill to and from the cave entrance during this trek. After touring the cave, the group will enjoy lunch at Mammoth Cave Hotel.
