Dear Brian:

As a matter of general interest, in partnership with the United States Census Bureau for the 2018 End-to-End Census Test, the Postal Service intends to install self-service stations (tablet device and stand) in 36 select Post Office lobbies in the Providence, Rhode Island region and surrounding counties. The self-service stations will be used by local residents to complete the online Census Bureau questionnaire.

Retail employees in the selected locations will provide basic monitoring of the tablets, including powering on and off, starting the Census website application and resetting the device's cellular internet connection when needed. Training will be provided to retail personnel prior to the tablets being used. Employees will not be expected to answer any questions about the Census Bureau questionnaire.

The self-service stations are anticipated to be available to local residents beginning in April with an end date in August. Enclosed is the list of selected Post Offices.

If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact Dion Mealy at extension 6861.

Sincerely,

 Rickey R. Dean
Manager
Contract Administration (APWU)

Enclosure
