Dear Brian:

As a matter of general interest, the Postal Service intends to test a method of manual parcel sectional sortation at the Engleside Station, Alexandria, Virginia.

The test is scheduled to begin February 7. Testing will involve several city delivery routes. The test will consist of creating up to six sections within the selected routes and having clerks distribute parcels based on these sections.

We will use test results to help determine the effectiveness of manual parcel sectional sortation for packages and carrier route loading.

Please contact Bruce Nicholson at extension 7773 if you have questions concerning this matter.

Sincerely,
