New Castle S&DC Update

Date: 11/6/2024

The Postal Service is creating a network of Sorting and Delivery Centers (S&DC) across the nation to move mail and packages more efficiently. This means there will be fewer trips needed to transport mail between facilities, which is not only more cost effective, it also reduces the Postal Service's carbon footprint. These changes are part of Delivering for America, the Postal Service's 10 year plan that is designed to achieve financial sustainability and service excellence.

S&DCs are currently being implemented nationwide. They will feature upgraded bathrooms, breakrooms and color schemes. Workroom floor and parking lot layouts will be redesigned. All of these improvements are aimed at giving employees a better workplace and enhancing productivity. Employees will be provided with upgraded equipment including new carrier cases, new letter and flat distribution cases, and ergonomic floor mats. There will also be new technology, like small delivery unit sorters (SDUS) and other equipment.

With all these upgrades, there may be some growing pains. Here are some items that will be worked on this week:

- Lockers will be numbered and assigned soon- the men's room is already done. If you need a locker assigned, please get with Raleigh.
- Construction by the dock and the cases being built in the back- Please try to stay out of those areas
- Our first wave of cases are almost done and as we get full cases built we will be replacing everyone's cases one at a time.
- Restroom areas are complete also the new fridge and ice maker are installed in the break room, ready to use.

Additionally, there will be a lot of changes that will be happening in the coming weeks with the S&DC's. These changes include:

- Carrier entrance doors are being removed at the moment and replaced with brand new ones.

These are some big changes. As we make our operations more efficient and modernized the organization, we are also sustaining and strengthening career opportunities for Postal Service employees, and improving how we serve the nation.

If you would like to talk to someone about dealing with these changes the USPS Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is available 24/7 for you as a resource. EAP is free, voluntary, and confidential. Call 800-EAP4YOU or go online at EAP4YOU.com

Thank you for your dedication to the Postal Service, our employees and our customers.
