Dear Brian:

As a matter of general interest, the Postal Service intends to conduct a test of the biometric capture of fingerprints for the Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI's) Identity History Summary Check (IdHSC) application.

The test will take place in two retail locations in the Capital District; Brentwood Post Office and Friendship Post Office in Washington, DC. The test is expected to begin by the end of November. During the test, Postal Service personnel (typically clerk craft employees) will perform a biometric capture of fingerprints. The entire process is expected to take approximately 10 to 15 minutes.

The process will normally include:

- Receive the individual's name, order number, or email address and enter the information into the appropriate computer application
- Capture the individual's fingerprints (using biometric fingerprint reader) and transmit the information to the United Postal Service Inspection Service (USPIS)
- Collect fingerprinting fee from the individual

The USPIS will transmit the fingerprints to the FBI.

If you have any questions concerning this matter, please contact Dion Mealy at extension 6861.
